

Where are we in the hiring process?

The chart below indicates what is available or filled. The majority of hiring happens between February 1 and April 30 of each year but we accept applications at any time. As applicants accept and return a contract, their name will fill the "Apply Now" tab. If a position has a name in it, we are no longer accepting applications for that position. You may apply for anything that still says "Apply Now" being certain to submit all materials for the desired position at once.

If you submitted materials for a position through lct.hiring@gmail.com (and received the automatic response) please know your materials remain in consideration until all positions are filled. If you receive another job offer and need to know where you are in the stack, just ask. Make sure you let us know how long the other company has given you to consider their offer so we can respond in a timely fashion.
